Dear PeoplePerHour Recruitment Manager,

I look forward to filling the Freelance Web Developer role at PeoplePerHour. Having technical expertise in full-stack web development and having real-world exposure to providing bespoke solutions to small business clients, I possess technical expertise as well as client handling skills to provide high-end freelance services.

I have created interactive and dynamic websites on my own in the past two years with the use of HTML, CSS, JavaScript, PHP, and MySQL. There are several completed projects in my portfolio, such as:

- Web application with user login and task tracking.
- Dynamic restaurant website with menus, reservation option, and contact form.
- Checkout-enabled, user login, and shopping cart eCommerce prototype.

My freelance work is more than coding. I oversee client communication, project schedules, and deadlines from beginning to completion. This makes every solution technically possible and client goal oriented. I make my designs responsive on mobile devices, cross browser compliant, and usability optimized.

Currently Study on Level 5 FdSc in Computing, I am currently with best practice in security, performance, and accessibility as it is today. I intend to produce clean, readable code and deliver stable, scalable sites state of the art for today's needs.

I am confident that my technical ability, dependability, and initiative communications skills make me a freelance project candidate who requires independence and accountability. I would welcome the opportunity to talk about your project requirements and how I may assist your company or organization.

Thank you. I am ready to undertake freelance work on a short term basis and can be reached via email or phone at your convenience.

Sincerely,

Marian-Cosmin Raducu
